Estate Planning 101

No matter the age or stage of life, everyone needs an estate plan to protect their families and their assets. Without a sufficient plan in place, an estate can end up in a messy, complex court probate process that drains financial resources and leaves loved ones in a stressful situation... and losing you will be hard enough.

At the most basic level, everyone should have three key items in place:

- A living trust and/or a will
- Power of attorney
- Medical directive

Not sure what any of this means? That's OK. The Goff Legal team can help break it down. We help our clients think through every aspect of their life to design a plan that works. From pets and property to children and charities, Goff Legal will take care of the preparation and planning so nothing is left to chance.
